journey through shaker

N THIS, the 1956 Gristmill, we hope to take you on a journey trocing the year's outstanding events. Entering Shaker Heights, we have stopped at each important intersection, paused at even the minor detours, and proceeded to explore all aspects of Shaker school life.

The new classrooms and corridors were put into full use for the first time. Important school news traveled quickly and easily to every room with the aid of the new public address facilities. All roads led to Shaker at the end of April when the statewide Student Council Convention was held here for the first time. The roads to learning were made smoother by the addition of more accelerated courses and four new staff members helped to keep the student-teacher rotio down to an effective level.

This year has been a memorable one for all Shokerites with these and innumerable other exciting events. The student body took the high roads and the low roads up, down, across, inside, and outside the school thereby producing the 1955-56 story of Shaker Heights High School. The Gristmill wishes to recreate this story and keep alive memories of it by taking the yearbook's readers on a journey through Shaker.

Shaker Offers a Program of Sixty Subjects

Mr. Goodman gives a Redox equation party.

Miss Hollon helps Marie Bianco plan her future.

Shaker is chiefly a college-preparatory schaol, since ninety per cent of its graduates attend calleges thraughout the U.S. Ta give students the backgraund necessary for callege wark, the schaol maintains high schalastic standards. Classes are geared to the above-average student, and all are encauraged to work to their fullest capacity. Caunselors discuss with each student his college and vocational plans, aiding him to choose a course of study which will be most prafitable for him. All students take the Kuder Vacational and Persanal Preference tests which help them to select the vocations for which they are best suited. Shakerites preparing far callege are encouraged to take several mathematics, English, language, science, and social studies courses.

The ability to express one's thaughts clearly is of the utmost importance. Thus particular stress is laid upon the study af English. Skill, taste, and knowledge are developed through camposition, grammar and usage, spelling, vocabulary, and reading. Compasition in all years is taught with the stimulating accompaniment of literature. The sophamore year is an introduction to literature which acquaints students with several types of prose and paetry. Juniors study American Literature, learning about the American dream from Emerson, Lincoln, Whitman, and others who dreamed it. During this year six weeks is spent in a class designed to teach students how to write speeches and speak in public. These two years are the minimum English requirement for graduation. Completing the caurse, seniors became familiar with English Literature through the study of great writers including Shakespeare, Milton, Shelley, and Maugham. The English Department also affers a reading improvement course which develops reading speed and comprehension.

Wider horizons are open to students through the study of a foreign language. By studying Spanish, French, Latin, or German, a student gains knowledge of another cauntry, literature, and way of life as well as a tool of scholarship. The language department feels that if the great barrier of language is wiped away, there will be a greater chance for world peace.

Man has tried for millians of years ta improve his environment by building shelters, planting craps, and killing wild animals. Today Shaker physics, bialogy, and chemistry students study the warld in which they live, haping someday to apply what they have learned in making medical, scientific, and engineering advances. Students are not taught from the textbook alane. Laboratory sessions and motion pictures are employed to illustrate the topic under study. In biology an individual project must be completed by every student. Such impressive works as building a T.V. camera and doing ariginal research on the study habits of high school students have been accomplished. Projects are encouraged in the other science classes, as well as participation in many science cantests.

One of the courses most necessary to a prospective college student is mathematics. Every standardized aptitude or achievement test contains many questions relating to mathematics. The Students cought in the act — octuolly working in closs.

obility to think logically and to deal with obstractions is valuable in any future course of study. Shaker offers both elementary and advanced courses in algebra and geometry plus trigonometry and applied mathematics. Students doing exceptionally well in mathematics were placed in an accelerated class which completed the required work and in addition, a course in calculus.

Through social studies courses pupils became better citizens by gaining an awareness of international interdependence, an understanding of American ideals and institutions, and a knowledge of democratic method. Two required courses, American History and American Government, explain the political system in the United States and the fine heritage left this younger generation.

Whether students prepare for college or business, they gain valuable skills from Business Education classes which include typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, Business Law, and Business English. The Music, Art, Industrial Arts, and Home Economics Departments offer instruction of value in either avocational or vocational fields.

The high ratings of Shaker students in Ohio and national scholarship tests and college board examinations prove that Shaker enjoys a considerable measure of success in achieving its scholastic goals.

The boys use a little elbow grease on a "51" Chevvy.

"Chop fine one cup of celery . . . "

A fine example of type costing.

Jack Freund will discover there is more to geometry than drawing triangles.

Research ar study is made easy by the library facilities.

A young hapeful checks her exam grade.

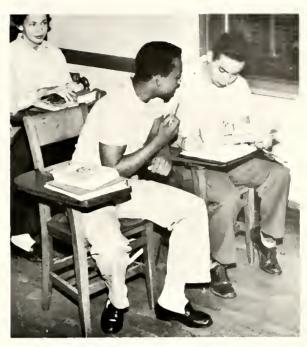

Shaker High School follows the policy of test, teach, test, becouse its extensive testing program enables the faculty to know more about each student. Early in the school year several diagnostic tests in vocabulory, spelling, and reading are given and the results emplayed in mapping the caurse of study in English for the year. In addition to the usual weekly tests in most classes, mid-term and final examinations are given in all major subjects. Juniors and seniors are required to take an academic aptitude test, the American Cauncil Psychological Examination, and seniors may choose to take Scholastic Aptitude and Achievement Tests spansared by the Callege Board. Co-aperative Achievement Tests are given in all science, mathematics, and language courses, English and American History. The results of these coops, which are given at many high schools, show that Shaker compores favorably with independent (private) schools.

Shakerites Learn Through Service

Saphamare Y-Teens serve caffee and daughnuts ta the dads.

Service is Shaker's biggest extra-curricular activity. Before school, after school, between classes, instead of classes, Shakerites can be found serving their school. As clubs, as groups, as individuals, they respond spontaneously to challenging needs.

When porking lot choos exceeded the sofety point, Jim Biolosky and his crew stepped in to untangle the traffic. Mory Miller found a lopse in sports coverage and remedied it with her weekly Sports Wire. An old established club like Boosters rejuvenated its constitution to meet the problems of a growing enrollment. Diligent Boosters were posted at the stair wells to relieve between-class congestion. Two others sacrificed their lunch periods to regulate a lunch line that would otherwise grow through the middle instead of at the end.

Chanticleers practice early in the marning ta sing late at night.

A smooth-running lunch line is possible through the efforts of cofeterio assistants.

Office assistants, cafeteria assistants, deans' assistants, lab ossistants, absentee list assistants, all volunteer students who aided the busy faculty with time-consuming detail. Even Gristmill student photographers Rothenberg and Fisher had assistants Klausner, Wilder, and Culp to help them cover the year's events.

From Student Council to Thespians, organizational activities emphasized service, service to the community and service to the school. Hi-Y gave a Christmas party for orphans; Y-Teens welcamed sophomores to school. The Choir sang ot a downtown department store; Chonticleers entertained at a dance. Shokerites serve Shoker, and by doing so, they serve themselves.

The Heights Game, High Point of the Football Season

George Brown delivers his pep talk at the Heights Game assembly to a very enthusiastic audience.

Who was it said that it cauldn't be done?

Just loak at our record: eight to one.

The only opponent we couldn't quite beat

Was the rain and the mud, for our only defeat.

Our defense has been something of which we are proud; In nine games only seven touchdowns allowed. Our affense — well, take a laok at the scare; We've never had such a record before.

With a line that is light but has spunk and fire, What it lacks in weight it makes up in desire. A backfield that's clever and fast as can be; It's bound to add up to a victory.

Not to mention the best coach in town—
No wonder they hoven't been holding us down.
We're proud of you boys for what you have done;
You finished it up with an eight against one!

— Mae Winkler Goadman

Guidance Program Is Enlarged

Louise M. Hollon Dean of Girls

Shaker's guidance program has been enlarged by the addition of "Living Today" classes for the sophomores. These classes will be continued through the junior and senior years, and each class will retain its own counselor. Discussions include health, study habits and life adjustment.

Besides the "Living Today" program many other guidance services ore available to Shaker students. Each pupil may receive the individual attention he desires simply by making an appointment with one of the deans or counselors. Aptitude tests were offered to all interested students this spring free of charge.

Many faculty members have given up much of their time this year to help the deans maintain these services. It is the aim of all these people to provide the best possible guidance to prepare students for jobs or college.

Personable Personnel

First: Mr. Isaiah Ward, Mr. Shepherd Perry, Mrs. Alice Singleton. Second: Mr. Joe Mack, Mr. Percy Baker, Mr. Eliatt Tann, Mr. Hubert May, Mr. Leray Browne, Mr. Neil Martin, Mr. Crosby Romey.

Few people realize how much work is done behind the scenes by the administrative staff. Mrs. Brazie is responsible for all the machine-scored testing and also does test research work. Every senior learns to become thankful for the efficient work of Miss Wood, who, as the school registrar, keeps records straight, checks college applications, copies out school recommendations, and checks to see that all correspondence with colleges reaches its proper destination.

Mrs. Finch's voice is heard by everyone calling the school, and Mrs. Luther and Miss Rock do everything from typing out the morning announcements to sending forgotten lunches and umbrellas to students. Miss Alice Barnes and her staff see to it that the cafeteria provides a well-balanced meal every doy, and the custodial staff of Mr. Crosby Ramey makes sure that Shaker is always kept spic and span.

This year's sophomore class, under the leadership of Jim Slavin, was one of the most spirited sophomore groups ever to attend Shaker. Its members participated enthusiastically in all school activities. Everyone connected with the class noticed the particularly outstanding way in which they accomplished everything they set out to do.

Once agoin, the sophomores sponsored the Sock Hop, one of the year's most successful dances, which bore the mark of careful planning, like everything else this class did. Sophomore boys were eminent in every field of sports, and the girls led in club activities.

This year's junior class set a precedent at Shaker. For the first time, the class officers were assisted by a fourteen-member planning committee, which acted as a cabinet-council for the executive board. The purpose of this group was to increase the scope of junior class activities, and to provide better representation for all the members of the class.

Under the leadership of class president Jack Freund, his cabinet, and the planning committee a junior prom was given that will long be remembered by all Shakerites. Juniors were among the leaders in every club and varsity sport. Their outstanding participation in school activities and the capable way in which they carried out all their duties makes them a class that will not soon be forgotten.

South 56-0

Opening their most successful season in many years, Shaker's Red Raiders smashed South 56-0. Led by two touchdown passes from All-Scholastic quarterback Dennis Goodman and three scores by All-L.E.L. back Bill German, the Raiders piled up a total of nine touchdowns against their hapless opponents. This game was the first of eight victories, and it marked the fifth straight year Shaker's gridders have beaten the South High Flyers.

Maple Heights 19-7

Early in the Maple Heights game, halfback Chuck Sykora of the Mustangs grabbed a loose ball in the end zone to put Shaker at a temporary disadvantage. The Raiders returned their fire in the second period as fullback Jack Fejes scored twice, from 1 and 77 yards out. In the second half, Goodman tallied on a run of 56 yards to end the scoring at 19-7. This was the Raiders' second win and Maple Heights' only defeat of the season.

Brush 21-6

Spotting Brush six points in the first quarter, Shaker came back to win their third consecutive game, 21-6. German scored on a 15-yard run in the second quarter to put the Raiders ahead by one point at the half. After a scoreless third quarter, Goodman capped a sustained drive by plunging in from the one-yard line, and Center Stan Dunn returned an intercepted pass 50 yards to account for the final score of the game.

George Brown sweeps past Brush defender.

Euclid 48-0

The Raiders made it four in a row in their opening L.E.L. game as they beat Euclid's Panthers 48-0. Bill German scored four times on runs of 55, 45, 40, and 35 yards to lead the seven-touchdown attack. George Brown, an All-L.E.L. end, scompered 53 yards for another touchdown. Shaker's defensive unit also sparkled, holding Euclid outside the Raider 20 yard line throughout the game.

Lakewood 0-7

The stands at Lakewood's stadium were packed with loyal Shakerites who came, despite a heavy downpour, to see what became a very muddy game. The two teams sloshed through a scoreless first half. In the third period, Lakewood got possession of the ball on the Shaker 15-yard line as the result of a blocked punt. With first down and goal to goal on the four, fullback John Pasalis went through the middle for the only score of the game. With less than a minute left in the game, Shaker blocked a punt deep in Lakewood territory, but on the next play Lakewood intercepted a pass to end the threat. It was a hard-fought battle that could have gone either way.

Cleveland Heights 20-0

Shakerites turned out in full force to see the Red Raiders soundly defeat their arch rivals, the Heights Tigers, 20-0. Shaker struck early when end Bill Carlson scooped up a blocked Tiger punt on the three-yard line and went into the end zone unmolested. After receiving a punt on their 16-yard line, Shaker marched 20 yards before German broke through for 64 yards and Shoker's second touchdown. Two minutes later, following another blacked punt, Brown scored on a 25-yard dash for the final tally of the game. Heights' only sustained drive was halted on Shaker's 13-yard line after they had advanced the pigskin 73 yards. Once again the Raiders showed their great defensive might by holding the strong Cleveland Heights team scoreless.

Versatility Brings 8-1 Record

Parma 20-7

Parma took the lead at the half on a touchdown pass from All-L.E.L. back Bob Jarus. Shaker faught back ofter the intermission and tied it up late in the third period when Gaadman sprinted 20 yards to score. In the fourth period, Jack Fejes put the Raiders ahead to stay, plunging one yard for the touchdown. Gaadman scored the clincher a few minutes later on a 48-yard run, making the final score 20-7. The victory kept Shaker's L.E.L. title hopes alive and eliminated Parma from the race.

Shaw 26-0

With a blanket of snaw on the ground, Shaker trounced the Shaw High Cardinals 26-0 at Shaw. Hawever, it was also a sad night for the Shakerites, for they returned to the school only to learn that Lakewood had won the L.E.L. Championship. Shaker's victory was their fourth league victory against only one setback. Leading the scoring was Brown with two tauchdowns both on one-yard plunges. Goodman and halfback Mark Perry accounted for the other two scores, while Dennis Tamscin kicked the two extra points.

Conditioning praved an impartant factor in the Raiders' victories,

Backs Mark Perry, Jack Fejes, and Bill German supplied the break-away running pawer.

Caach Jim Halderman, assisted by backfield caach Nay Sanna and line caach Zip Zednick, furnished the brains behind the team.

Jack Freund, Chuck Kahn, Stan Dunn, Rager McArt, and Fred Jurek were the backbane of Shaker's defense.

Garfield Heights 26-20

Shaker came fram behind to win a thriller from Gar-field Heights, 26-20. German, the team's leading scorer with 72 points, scored on three touchdown runs, ane of 84 yards. Quarterback Corky Maniaci, substituting for Goodman, went over on a one yard burst through the middle. Tamscin added two conversions. Garfield Heights, which scored three of the seven touchdowns made against the Raiders this season, was runner-up to Maple Heights in the Greater Cleveland Conference; thus Shaker beat both the winner and the runner-up in that league. Although the L.E.L. title evaded them, the Raiders showed that speed and spirit could overcome lack of size in bringing an 8-1 record to Shaker. This is a tribute to the skill of the coaching staff, the spirit of the student body, and the determination of the team.

With Carky Maniaci halding Dennis Tamcsin's reliable tae supplied the kicking strength.

Three Ties Highlight Jayvee Season

J. V. FOOTBALL

First: Stan Glickman, Seth Harris, Jerry Fritz, Lenny Weiss, Larry Berman. Second: Eugene Cahen, Mel Cahen, Al Shrayer, Larry Freeman, Tam Lenhart, Neil Shun. Third: Ken Suid, Jerry Davis, Buck Ellswarth, Tam Bensan, Bruce Herringshaw, John Harston. Fourth: Jerry Thal, Phil Mayher, Chuck Schlam Chuck Bishop, Ran Rudalph, Dick Powell, Lee Yearley.

This year's Jayvee season may be considered successful, for in all games but one Shaker had a chance for victory. What started as a lack of interest in this year's sophomore team changed to an attitude typical of all Shaker football: great interest, spirit, and desire.

After they opened the season by tying Maple Heights, 12-12, the sophs dropped two heart-breakers to Brush and Euclid, 13-0 and 26-20. In their two most important games, against Heights and Lakewood, they came through with 6-6 ties. Following a 39-0 defeat at the hands of Parma, the Jayvee's ended their season well with a 12-0 victory over the Shaw sophomores.

It is always hard to predict future prospects, for the boys often change in two years. Hawever, linemen Jerry Fritz and Lenny Weiss, ends Larry Freeman and Ron Rudalph, and backs Chuck Schlam, Al Shroyer, and Chuck Bishop seem to be heading for immediate use on the Varsity.

Credit goes to Coaches Heinlen and Rice far turning an especially small squad of boys into a well-rounded team.

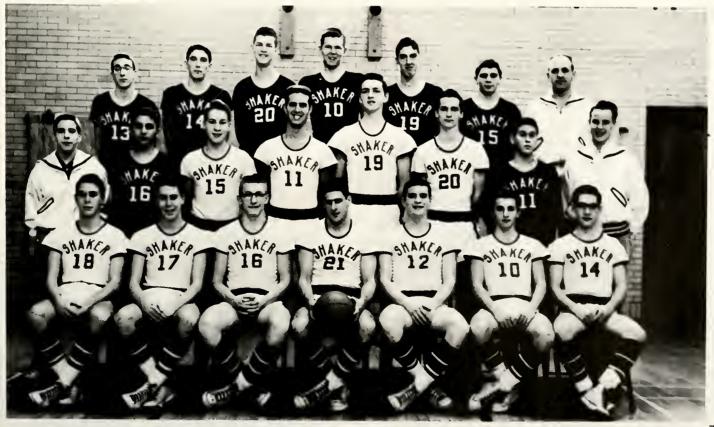

Dennis Goodman captures another rebound for the Raiders.

Cagers Finish Strong

With Three Straight Victories

Charlie Kahn shoats his deadly jump shat against Cleveland Heights.

This year Shaker's basketball team was again hurt by lack of height. Nevertheless, the team had plenty of spirit and finished the season with seven wins against ten defeats. Farced to play nearly perfect ball to beat their larger opponents, Shaker showed Coach Fred Heinlen's prediction to be true: "We'll beat a small team, and a poor big team, and we'll give a good big team trouble."

Highlights of the season were two point losses to Lakewood and Shaw and victories over Heights, Shaw, and Euclid. They also posted victories over Brush, Collinwood, Lutheran, W.R.A., and Garfield.

Boys who played regularly all year were Captain Dennis Goodman, Chuck Kahn, Corky Maniaci, and Dennis Tamscin. Long shot artist Maniaci and Kahn with his jump shot put in a majority of the baskets. Goodman and Tamscin were given the job of fighting for rebounds with boys much taller. Boys that played in the fifth slot were Walt Lloyd, Doug Ganim, Roger McArt, and Mike Blane.

Dale Huge drives in for a lay-up in the J.V. game against Lakewood.

The J.V. basketball team won more games than any other Shaker J.V. team to date. Under Coach Nay Sanna they won eleven while lasing six with a 7-3 record against LEL schools. After drapping their first two games, the sophamores wan six in a raw, four against LEL schools. They then drapped two more, again lasing to Lakewaad, and wan their next five before lasing an exciting game to Euclid 68-69.

This may be a sign of improved basketball at Shaker, but at least the next two years should be winning seasons. Bays that gave the team the needed spark were Chuck Schlam, Jim Slavin, Dale Huge, Bab Rath, Ken Dery, and Al Shroyer.

Only One Dual Meet

In the first meet against Heights, the tankers won with ease 47-30. This meet was highlighted by a pool and school record in the 240 yard medley relay set by Adler at backstroke, Crumbine at orthodox breaststroke, Perry at dolphin breaststroke, and Hattenbach at freestyle; the time was 2:27.4. In the next meet they suffered their only loss in Lakewood's pool. After that they won seven dual meets in a row including victories over Lakewood and W.R.A. In the meet at Euclid the same relay team set a school record in the 200 yard medley relay in 1:57.0. The event was new this year and featured two different types of breaststroke: the orthodox, using a frog kick and an underwater arm recovery; and the dolphin, using an overwater arm recovery and a whip kick. The 100 yard breaststroke event uses a frog kick and an overwater arm recovery.

Swimmers Take Third Straight L.E.L. Title

Climaxing a highly successful season, Shaker's mermen dunked Lakewood to walk away with the L.E.L. crown for the third year in a row. Showing strong depth the team walked away with ten out of the eighteen places in the freestyle events and held their own in the other events to come out victorious. Taking first places were Jim Adler, 50 yard freestyle; Mark Perry, 200 yard freestyle; and Captain Harry Hattenbach, 100 yard freestyle.

This was a high point in a season that produced eight victories against only one defeat near the beginning of the year. The main reason for this success was the versatility of team members: the ability to swim events other than their specialties. This was shown by Hattenbach, who swam every event except backstroke, and Perry, who swam everything except 50 yard freestyle. Freestyler Tom Pecsok also swam individual medley and backstroke. Jim Adler and John Slavin, usually freestylers, helped out at backstroke. Breaststroker Frank Crouse also swam individual, and Pete Crumbine, another breaststroker, swam freestyle.

Second: Randy Kennedy, Ken Caal, Barrie Kaye, Henry DuLaurence, Paul Switzer, Tam Priar, Ted Woodbridge, Caach Ted Barkley. Third: Dave Judd, Bruce Harper, Bill Hallett, Bob Metz, Ernest Grosser, Robbi Cox, Jerome Galdfein.

Under the coaching of Ted Barkley, this year's J.V. swimming team was the speediest in this area. They wan every meet they swam, usually with ease, and will send many fine prospects to the varsity next year. Bays who showed pramise were Chuck Bishop, Ed Jefferys, and Bill Hallet in freestyle; Ed Marcus and Bruce Harper in breaststrake; Tom Prior in backstroke; and Dave Judd and Tom Adler in individual medley.

Wrestling Team Breaks Even in Ten Dual Meets

Don Holmes registers a pin in the meet against John Morshall.

Shaker's wrestling team broke even in dual meets this year. They started the season by trouncing Collinwood 36-13, but then lost a heartbreaker to West Tech in their first home meet 21-22. Next they beat Euclid 24-20 before losing to a powerful Maple Heights team. The next week highlighted the wrestling season with victories over Heights and Lakewood, 24-18 and 22-17. The grapplers dropped their next two meets before whipping West High 28-15.

Two weeks later in the Regional Tournament, Shaker placed five bays in the top four of their class, thus qualifying them far the state meet. These were Tom Baldwin, 112; Jerry Weiner, 133; John Conner, 138; Captain George Brown, 145; and Jack Freund, 154. Other bays that wrestled regularly were Dick Horwitz, 120; Lenny Weiss, 127; Fred Jurek, 165; Dan Holmes, 175; and Ted "Bear" Bryant, 185.

This year's J.V. wrestling teom, under the coaching of Bob Goodman, ended a successful season with a 9-1 record. Many of the wrestlers showed fine promise and should see action on next year's varsity team. These include saphomores Dave Yaung, Jerry Fritz, Bruce Herringshaw, and junior Pete Eicharn, all of whom went undefeoted this year. Cross Country Runners Have Winning Season

Under the leadership of Bob Mears, who finished tenth in the state meet, and Bill Benson, LEL individual champion, Shaker's cross country team had a successful season. Despite a lack of depth, the Harriers won three of four dual meets, including a victory over John Adams, last year's state champions. In the LEL and district meets, they captured third place, and they placed eighth in the Bowling Green relays. Jack Brown ran well, and Ernie Meinberg, Bob Hempel, and Ken Koblitz, all regulars on the team, will form the nucleus of Coach Rice's squad next year.

With more balance, depth, and experience the Shaker cindermen enjoyed a very successful season this year, and made a strong bid for the L.E.L. title.

Bob West, Mike Partington, and Captain Pete Harwood were sprinters, while Bill Benson and Bob Mears ran the longer races. In the field events, Walt Freedmon did the broad jumps, Lynn Hammond the pole vault, and Bob Gould the high jump. Dennis Tamscin, Mal Huml, and Dave Jones ran the hurdles, and Bill Carlson dominated the weight events.

This year the trock team also added several indoor meets to its schedule. These meets helped Coach Rice choose his outdoor team and gave the boys valuable running experience.

Climax Successful Athletic Year

This year Shaker had the makings of another strang baseball team, which attempted to regain the Lake Erie League championship it won twa years

Returning veterans were Lou Body, Ed Anzalone, Bill German, Roger Mc-Art, Dick Schroeder, Charlie Kahn, George Brown, Jim Lavdas, Arnie Eisenberg, and Captain Mike Bloch.

It has became a tradition to have good baseball teams at Shaker. This is a result of good coaching, ably supplied by Fred Heinlen and Nay Sanna.

Shaker's tennis team last fall finished the season undefeated and captured the Lake Erie League Championship for the seventh time in nine years. Having also won the city championship in the spring of 1955, the team captured the "grand slam" of Cleveland high school tennis.

Led by coach Jack Pickering, a former state scholastic champion, the netters combined brilliant affense with good team spirit to triumph over their opponents. The singles players were Doug Ganim, Tony Haber, and Dick Inglis. Teaming up at doubles were Dave Luke and Bob Newman, and Bob Lowe and Dave Seidenfeld.

First: Dale Huge, Dick Cowan, Loren Roth, Mike Blane. Second: Bab Roth, Bruce Kloppman.

This year's Shaker golf team, trying to emulate last year's unbeaten record, defended the Lake Erie League chompionship which it won in 1955. In spite of the lack of returning lettermen, Shaker's new golf coach, Al Raymond, was able to mold another strong, successful team. Bruce Kloppman, the only remaining letterman from the 1955 team, and sophomore Dale Huge formed the nucleus of the team, which also included Mike Blane, Loren Roth, Bob Roth, and Dick Cowan.

The average individual is taken into consideration when the girls' sports program is drawn up for the year. For those who like vigorous outdoor activities, hockey is offered in the fall and spring. Swimming, modern dance, and fencing are offered all year long while basketboll, volleyball, badminton, baseball, and life saving are very popular in the winter and spring seasons. The result is a well-rounded sports program.

Classes Vie For Volleyball Supremacy

For every sport there is an interclass tournament which determines the school championship. Because of the paor weather this year, the hockey tournament was cancelled, but the volleyball tournament made up for it. The junior class rallied behind their team with songs, cheers, a live mascot and several stuffed ones, and bedecked themselves in their blue and grey colors. The seniors in red and white brought out their mascot, a friendly octopus. Pre-game tensions came to a climax as the juniors hid the senior mascot in retaliation for a similar prank played on them. In a few minutes both teams settled down to a serious game. At the half the seniors led by a close margin but they poured it on in the second half to defeat the juniors and maintain their volleyball supremacy.

The Girls' Gym Leaders are a service club and include among their principal duties the responsibilities of officiating and planning intramural games and assisting in the gym classes. The Leaders' white gym suit and her red and white emblem is her symbol of assistance. Aside from their class activities and intramural duties, the girls were influenced by the high roads and low roads of Scotland and called their annual donce "The Highland Fling." The girls played host to forty-three schools at the Cleveland Women's Physical Education Association sponsored playday early in March.

Swimming Leaders Serve With Splash

The Girls' Swimming Leaders assist the swimming classes, from beginners to advanced. Aside from these duties the girls found time to record the points at the meets and diligently make up the programs. They sponsored a bake sale early in the fall and planned to duplicate it this year.

Early this spring the club spansared a swimming party for a group of orphans. It was a successful splash.

The girls have concentrated their efforts to presenting synchronized swimming skits of the various swimming meets. This year each class spansored a program. The Seniors presented "Beat Me Daddy," the Juniors a skit to the Shaker Fight Song recorded by our own band, and the Sophomores, "Liza." The Seniors demonstrated their routine in the A.A.U. Swimming Meet, and Lynn Wynant presented a solo in the same meet. In the spring the girls presented their annual pageant which climaxed their season. The pageant took patience and proctice to make the costumes and the scenery, and all the girls did their part.

New Look For Cheerleaders

The cheerleading squad, which was ably captained by Beverly Biederman, displayed several new features this year. During the football seasan, the student bady was pleased by the male additions to the squad, who sparked more cheering for the teams. Brand new cheering outfits designed by the girls themselves made their debuts during the basketball season. A new mascot, Zip Jr., was introduced to keep the red and white panda company. The most hilarious rally of the year occurred as four new cheerleaders appeared on the scene; they were Mr. Henilen, Mr. Sanna, Mr. Rice, and Mr. Zednik. The cheerleaders kept school morale at a peak, and inspired an enthusiastic school spirit.

Band Strikes

Besides praviding halftime entertainment at football games, the band did much to increase school spirit by playing at pep rallies and during games in full force. The Heights game highlighted the season, as the band presented a sparkling halftime show featuring the majorettes' twirling sparkler botons and Ben Fisco's thrilling toss of a flaming boton. The majorettes sported snappy red corduray, princess-style uniforms, new ones for the first time in years.

Another addition to the music department was the Shaker City Five, a "pep band" of five boys who played jazz at open houses as well as pep assemblies.

After the foatball season, the band settled dawn to a study of more serious music in preparation for the Spring Instrumental Concert and the Greater Cleveland Instrumental Contest in February.

The girls modeled their robes before the school for the first time at the Christmas Assembly. They also sang in the Christmas Concert and with the Choir at the performance of "The Creotion" in May.

New outfits were also introduced by the Chanticleers, a sixteen voice group which practices its repertoire of popular and novelty songs before school several mornings each week. They first appeared in their new combination of yellow and charcool on College Night, and at the Christmas Assembly they pleased the school with "'Twas the Night Before Christmas." The Chanticleers gave other performances for various groups around town during the year.

Phyllis Kaplan, the student director, led the choir in one number. At the close of the pragram, Choir alumni joined them in the Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's "Messiah."

Chess Club Checks City Mates for Championship

Shaker's chess team defended the city interscholastic championship which they wan last year. Sweeping undefeated through all first semester apposition, the chessters made a strong bid to retain their titles. Members of the team were captain George Gingold, Bob Sugar, Daug Havighurst, Bill Atkinson, Dan Lindow, Phil Carl, Harold Harris, and Bob Metz.

During lunch periods and after school in room 222, approximately thirty members of the Chess Club gained valuable experience by playing in club tournaments, simultaneous exhibitions, or just far practice.

Kibitzers Bob Sugar and George Gingold watch to see if Harold Harris can checkmate Don Lindow.

This year's Science Club was a much-traveled organization. A trip to the city morgue highlighted the club's mass exodus to various places of scientific interest. Other trips, planned at frequent meetings under Mr. Goodmon's direction, were made to the Atomic Exposition at Public Hall and to the Case Hydraulic Engineering Laboratory. Members also built individual projects for the Kent Science Convention.

Gristmill Journeys Through Shaker

Amid the crack of rifle shots from across the hall and the running feet of the indoor track team working out in the corridor, the largest staff in Gristmill history worked fervently to meet its deadline. The editors started out with only vague ideas on how a yearbook should be assembled; but as the months wore on they began to pick up the terminology, and soon the 1956 pictorial review of life at Shaker began to take shape.

To the staff, the years at Shaker represented a three-year journey, from the start of the sophomore year until the final destination of the senior year. For 1956 they have attempted to show the happenings that have made this part of the journey a unique one. They present in this edition a review of the "stops" and "starts," the "detours" and "deadends," and the pleasant memories that made this year's trip one to be remembered.

Shakerite Features Bi-weekly Issues

This year, "student opinion" was accurately expressed by the competent Shakerite staff with the aid of their adviser Mr. Burton Randall. Six-page editions published at Christmas and commencement highlighted the biweekly issues, which featured clever cartoons and caricatures drawn by Patsy Wagenhals and Dick Mincheff. Twenty new reporters were added to the staff in December after a five week trial period during which each "cub" was required to write five articles that were used to judge the applicants.

Junior Council Strengthens Membership

Active membership participation has been the keynote of the Junior Council on World Affairs' program for this year. The group has achieved this goal by the careful planning of its officers and sponsor and the enthusiasm of its members.

The club, which meets on the second Thursday af each month, has given a current events quiz and shown a film on West Germany. It has sent representatives to Cincinnati, to the mock United Nations Convention at Western Reserve University, and to Washington to observe the nation's government at work.

Mr. Dixon and the club afficers were unanimous in declaring this a very successful year for the club.

Seniors Bring Santa to Orphans

Y-Teen concentrated on "serving with a smile" this year. Each chapter planned and carried out Christmas and Easter projects, the seniors taking a Christmas party to the orphans at Friendly Inn for the third year. Together, the chapters handled the successful Red Cross drive. In keeping with school tradition, the Y-Teens worked hard on the Harvest Hop, and the juniors presented their annual style show in the spring. Penny Jahns led the Y-Teen Board, made up of students, mothers, and faculty, in planning and coordinating all the various activities of each chapter. Mrs. Klinger fram the Cleveland YWCA was present at all the cambined meetings and baard meetings to provide a link with the national organization.

Seniors Sponsor Skate

The Christmas Orphan Party was the highlight of the year for the bays of the senior chapter of Hi-Y. The members and their dates were hosts to many underprivileged children on December 18 at the Heights Y. The afternoon's proceedings included a magician's show, a visit from Santa Claus, and a small banquet. To raise maney for this party, the chapter spansored an all-school skating party in November at the Chagrin Roller Rink. They also held the Fall Ball in October and a Hi-Y spring picnic. Mr. Bristol was the chapter's adviser at their regular Wednesday evening meetings.

Assistants Relieve Librarians and Deans

The assistants to the deans were carefully chosen for their jobs by Miss Hollon and Mr. Morris. They gave up their study halls to work in the deans' offices and relieve their advisers of small, but time-consuming tasks. Their duties included answering the telephone, writing out excuses, and delivering messages.

The many students who are lost in the library were aided this year by helpful library assistants who, by June, were experts in where to find material on everything from the Elizabethan Age to lepidoptra. Along with helping bewildered students, these nineteen assistants relieved Miss MacCampbell and Miss Kelley of such jobs as putting away books, taking the attendance, and checking out books.

Demerit Panel Counsels Students

The Demerit Panel job this year required more time and effort than previously. The new regulations, passed by the Student Council last year, required that the panel see any student who had acquired five demerits. The six member panel and the vice-president of the Student Council considered carefully all their decisions, trying to help each student with his problems. Members of the Demerit Panel olso recorded every demerit acquired by the student body.

Student Council Host to State Convention

EXECUTIVE BOARD: Maurice Zilber, Co-Athletic Treasurer; Ken Berns, Business Manager; Susie Silverman, Secretary; Bill Benson, President; Mary Miller, Vice-President; Mary Bingham and Sam Kinney, Ca-Treasurers; Warren Camiskey, Co-Athletic Treasurer.

This year the Student Council, adding to its regular activities, initiated a 13man parliamentary procedure team. This group was available to anyone who wished a demonstration of the correct method of conducting a meeting.

A year's planning and the cooperation of the community culminated in the highlight of the year. On April 27 and 28 the Student Council was host to the state convention of the Ohio Association of Student Councils. Five hundred student delegates and adult sponsors came to participate in discussions, general sessions, and workshops. Entertainment was furnished with a banquet and a dance.

The aims of the Social Council were to make the new Elbow Room an enjoyable place for all Shakerites and to do more in connection with the snack bar. Working with the Student Council, the Social Council formulated policies for the Elbow Room. Two snack bar manogers were appointed to dish out cokes, hot dogs, and milkshakes at open houses, after games, and at other school parties and functions. Besides the refreshments served on Tuesdays after school, many graups used the snack bar for bake sales.

The Social Council also carried out its schedule of dances and open houses. A popular event, the Girls' Slumber Party, returned to Shaker this year, and a decoration party was held the night before the Halloween Party.
